Work, Health, and Well-being: Integrating Wellness and Occupational Health and Safety in the Workplace

26–29 January 2015

Boston, MA, USA

Work, Health, and Well-being: Integrating Wellness and Occupational Health and Safety in the Workplace is a three-day program offered at Harvard School of Public Health designed to help participants enhance employee health, minimize work-related injuries and illnesses, and reduce employee health care-related costs.

This applied program provides the knowledge necessary to integrate siloed occupational health, health promotion, and health protection programs to enhance employee health, minimize work-related injuries and illnesses, and reduce employee health care-related costs. Work, Health, and Well-being is ideal for professionals with direct responsibility for the health, safety, and wellness of employees as well as those who are designing or directing health protection and health promotion programs. Participants will represent diverse sectors, industries, and job functions and will come from around the world.
